Lunenbourg, Auguſt 19, N. S.

YEſterday the King reviewed four Battallions of Foot. After his Majeſty had rode along the Line, and diſmounted at the Tent, the Regiments marched by Companies before his Majeſty, and ranked off Man by Man. They then marched to their former Ground, and performed their manual Exerciſe and Facings. This done, they formed two Lines, and fired by Plattoons and Diviſions at each other, advancing and retreating. After which they perform'd the Hollow Square and fired, the Grenadiers throwing Grenadoes. They then reduced the Square, drew up again in one Line, and fired in Plattoons. Their Exerciſe being over, they marched by his Majeſty in grand Diviſions, which finiſhed the Review. This Day the King reviewed four other Battallions of Foot, who went through the whole Exerciſe in the ſame Manner as thoſe Yeſterday; which Exerciſe was performed both Days with great Regularity.
